1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 Plaintiffs Brian Smith, Jacqueline Mooney, Angela Bakanas, and Matthew Colon 3 (“Plaintiffs” or “Class Representatives”), by and through Class Counsel, respectfully 4 submit this memorandum in support of their motion for an award of attorneys’ fees, costs, 5 and Service Payments.¹

6 I. INTRODUCTION

7 After more than a year of hard-fought litigation, Class Counsel, Michael L. Roberts 8 and Erich P. Schork of Roberts Law Firm, US, PC, and Robert R. Ahdoot and Andrew 9 W. Ferich of Ahdoot & Wolfson (“AW”), secured an exceptional Settlement that provides 10 for the creation of a $1.5 million qualified settlement fund and timely and significant cash 11 payments to Class Members.

12 Plaintiffs respectfully request an award of $500,000 in attorneys’ fees. The 13 requested award equating to 1/3 of the Settlement Fund is consistent with fee awards 14 granted in connection with other complex ERISA class actions. It is also reasonable and 15 justified given the excellent result obtained for the Class, the skill and experience of Class 16 Counsel, the complexity of the case, and the significant risks of non-payment Class 17 Counsel assumed by prosecuting this matter on a contingent basis. The fact that the 18 requested award equates to a lodestar multiplier of 1.12—a number that will be further 19 reduced by Class Counsels’ preparation and appearance at the final fairness hearing, 20 continued coordination with the Settlement Administrator, and overseeing of the 21 Settlement distribution process—further demonstrates the reasonableness of the 22 requested award.

23 Plaintiffs also request reimbursement of $50,000 in out-of-pocket costs. These 24 costs were reasonable and necessary to pursue this litigation and secure the Settlement.

25 Finally, Plaintiffs request that the Court award Service Payments of $3,000 to each 26 of the four Class Representatives (for a total of $12,000). Each Class Representative did

27 _____
28 ¹ Except as otherwise specified, capitalized words and terms herein have the same meaning ascribed to them in the Class Action Settlement Agreement, ECF 75-1.

1 everything in their power to represent the best interests of the Class and devoted a 2 significant amount of time communicating with attorneys, gathering evidence, reviewing 3 and approving the complaint, and ultimately reviewing and approving the Settlement. No 4 Settlement would have been possible without their vital role.

5 I. BACKGROUND

6 The Parties’ negotiations regarding fees, costs, and Service Payments were 7 conducted only after agreement was reached on all of the other material terms of the 8 Settlement. Schork Decl. ¶ 16; Ferich Decl. ¶ 15. The Settlement itself was reached after 9 extensive investigation, hard-fought litigation, targeted discovery and consultation with 10 experts, and negotiations and with the assistance of David Gereonemus of JAMS. Schork 11 Decl. ¶ 12; Ferich Decl. ¶ 12.

12 A. History of the Litigation

13 Plaintiffs in this Action allege that VCA, Inc. and the Plan Committee for the VCA, 14 Inc. Salary Savings Plan (together, “VCA” or “Defendants”) breached fiduciary duties in 15 violation of ERISA, 29 U.S.C. §§ 1001-1461 by failing to ensure that Plan members’ 16 payment of recordkeeping and administrative (“RK&A”) fees were fair, reasonable, and 17 appropriate. Schork Decl. ¶ 3; Ferich Decl. ¶ 3.

18 On November 22, 2021, Plaintiffs filed their Class Action Complaint against 19 Defendants alleging that, inter alia, VCA: (a) breached their duty of prudence to the Plan 20 as fiduciaries by allowing the Plan to pay multiplies of the reasonable per participant 21 amount for the Plan’s retirement plan services fees, failing to properly disclose the fees 22 charged to Participants in the Plan, failing to defray reasonable expenses of administering 23 the plan, and failing to act with the required due care and diligence in the administration 24 of the Plan; and (b) breached their duty to adequately monitor ERISA fiduciaries of the 25 Plan by failing to monitor and evaluate their performance, failing to monitor the process 26 by which Plan recordkeepers were evaluated, and failing to remove individuals 27 responsible for Plan monitoring who caused excessive cost and detriment to the Plan.
28 ECF No. 1 ¶¶ 176-181, 183-188.

1 Almost immediately after Plaintiffs filed their Complaint, Defendants moved to 2 stay the litigation pending the Supreme Court's decision in the ERISA litigation in 3 Hughes v. Northwestern Univ., No. 19-1401, 141 S. Ct. 2882 (U.S. July 2, 2021). ECF 4 No. 25. Plaintiffs opposed this motion. ECF No. 28. Hughes was decided during the 5 pendency of the motion to stay, resulting in VCA's withdrawal of the motion. ECF No.
6 36.

7 On February 17, 2022, VCA moved to dismiss the litigation in its entirety (ECF 8 No. 40), which Plaintiffs vehemently opposed. ECF No. 47. Ultimately, the Court denied 9 the motion to dismiss in its entirety and allowed Plaintiffs to continue to litigate all claims 10 against VCA. ECF Nos. 55, 56. On April 28, 2022, VCA answered the Complaint. ECF 11 No. 57.

12 B. Mediation and the Settlement Negotiations

13 In July 2022 the Parties discussed the prospect of early resolution. Schork Decl. ¶ 14 10; Ferich Decl. ¶ 12. As a result of this discussion, the Parties mutually agreed to mediate 15 this matter. Id. An all-day mediation session was reserved with David Gereonemus of 16 JAMS for November 9, 2022. Schork Decl. ¶ 12; Ferich Decl. ¶ 13. In the meantime, the 17 Parties began engaging in settlement negotiations and preparing for the November 9, 2022 18 mediation. Schork Decl. ¶ 11; Ferich Decl. ¶ 13.

19 On November 9, 2022, the Parties participated in an all-day mediation session with 20 Mr. Geronemus. Schork Decl. ¶ 12; Ferich Decl. ¶ 12. With Mr. Geronemus's guidance, 21 the parties had a productive mediation session. Id. Late in the day, the Parties reached an 22 agreement in principle to settle the litigation, and agreed to the creation of a Qualified 23 Settlement Fund consisting of a Gross Settlement Amount of $1,500,000. Schork Decl. ¶ 24 13; Ferich Decl. ¶ 13.

25 Following the mediation, the Parties engaged in extensive subsequent discussions to 26 finalize the Settlement's terms. Schork Decl. ¶ 16; Ferich Decl. ¶ 16. During negotiations, 27 the Parties deferred discussions concerning the Service Payments to be sought on behalf of 28 the Class Representatives and the amount of Attorneys' Fees and Costs to be sought by 1 Plaintiffs’ counsel until after reaching an agreement on all material terms of the Settlement.

2 Schork Decl. ¶ 15; Ferich Decl. ¶ 15. Negotiations regarding the Settlement were 3 conducted at arm’s length, in good faith, and under the supervision of Mr. Geronemus.
4 Schork Decl. ¶ 12; Ferich Decl. ¶ 12. After comprehensive negotiations and diligent efforts, 5 Plaintiffs and VCA finalized the terms of the Settlement and executed the Settlement on 6 January 30, 2023. Schork Decl. ¶ 18; Ferich Decl. ¶ 18.

7 II. ARGUMENT

8 A. The Court Should Approve the Requested Attorneys’ Fees

9 “In a certified class action, the court may award reasonable attorney’s fees . . . that 10 are authorized by law or by the parties’ agreement.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(h). The Supreme 11 Court has recognized that “a litigant or a lawyer who recovers a common fund for the 12 benefit of persons other than himself or his client is entitled to a reasonable attorney’s fee 13 from the fund as a whole.” Boeing Co. v. Van Gemert, 444 U.S. 472, 478 (1980); see 14 also, e.g., Stetson v. Grissom, 821 F.3d 1157, 1165 (9th Cir. 2016) (“In the absence of a 15 contractual or statutory basis for awarding fees, the district court may award reasonable 16 fees as a matter of federal common law when class counsel has recovered a ‘common 17 fund.’”) (quoting Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(h)). In deciding whether the requested fee amount is 18 appropriate, the Court’s role is to determine whether such amount is “fundamentally ‘fair, 19 adequate, and reasonable.’” Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 963 (9th Cir. 2003) 20 (quoting Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)).

21 Where a class settlement results in the creation of a common fund, “[t]he district 22 court may use the percentage-of-the-fund method to determine a reasonable attorney 23 fee.” Marshall v. Northrop Grumman Corp., No. 16-CV-6794, 2020 WL 5668935, at 24 *1-2 (C.D. Cal. Sept. 18, 2020) (citing Stanger v. China Elec. Motor, Inc., 812 F.3d 734, 25 738 (9th Cir. 2016); In re Online DVD-Rental Antitrust Litig., 779 F.3d 934, 953 (9th 26 Cir. 2015)). “Although the Ninth Circuit has established 25% as the benchmark attorney 27 fee in common fund cases, that benchmark is ‘a starting point for analysis’ because it 28 ‘may be inappropriate in some cases.’” Id. (quoting Viscaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290

1 F.3d 1043, 1048 (9th Cir. 2002)). When determining whether to adjust the benchmark 2 percentage, district courts consider: “(1) the result obtained for the class; (2) the effort 3 expended by counsel; (3) counsel’s experience; (4) the skill of counsel; (5) the 4 complexity of the issues; (6) the risks of non-payment assumed by counsel; (7) the 5 reaction of the class; and (8) comparison with counsel’s lodestar.” Id. (citations omitted).

6 Here, the excellent results obtained for the Class, experience and skill of Class 7 Counsel, complexity of the case, time and effort expended by Class Counsel to prosecute 8 this matter, the risks of non-payment assumed by Class Counsel, awards in similar cases, 9 and a lodestar cross-check support the reasonableness of the requested fee award.

10 1. The Settlement Is an Excellent Result for the Class

11 The “degree of success obtained” is the most critical factor in analyzing a fee 12 request. Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 436 (1983); see also Marshall, 2020 WL 13 5668935, at *2.

14 The results achieved through the Settlement are exceptional. The $1,500,000 15 Qualified Settlement Fund represents approximately 25 percent of the maximum 16 damages Plaintiffs could collect at trial—that is, under Plaintiffs’ best-case-scenario. As 17 a percentage of recovery, the Settlement Fund is equal to or greater “than recoveries in 18 other cases where attorney fees of one third of the common fund were awarded.” 19 Marshall, 2020 WL 5668935, at *2 (approving fee award of 1/3 of the settlement fund in 20 ERISA case where the fund represented 29% of the plaintiffs’ claimed damages at trial); 21 Hurtado v. Rainbow Disposal Co., No. 8:17-CV-1605, 2021 WL 2327858, at *4 (C.D.
22 Cal. May 21, 2021) (approving request for fees amounting to 30% of the settlement fund 23 in ERISA case where the settlement fund amount represented between “23.4% and 34.0% 24 of the maximum amount that the Class Members could recover if the liability were 25 successfully litigated through trial on all counts”). This factor supports the reasonableness 26 of the requested fee award.

2. The Experience of Class Counsel

“The experience of counsel is also a factor in determining the appropriate fee award.” Waldbuesser v. Northrop Grumman Corp., No. CV 06-6213, 2017 WL 9614818, at *3 (C.D. Cal. Oct. 24, 2017); see also In re Pac. Enterprises Secs. Litig., 47 F.3d 373, 378 (9th Cir. 1995) (“Parties represented by competent counsel are better positioned than courts to produce a settlement that fairly reflects each party’s expected outcome in litigation.”). Class Counsel have substantial experience leading the prosecution of complex actions, including cases involving ERISA claims. Schork Decl. ¶ 32–36; Ferich Decl. ¶ 32–40. Class Counsel utilized that experience to litigate this matter efficiently and effectively prior to reaching the Settlement. This factor supports approval of the requested fee award. Marshall, 2020 WL 5668935, at *3 (recognizing that a “one-third fee is appropriate where counsel litigated effectively, and their experience was essential for obtaining the result”) (citing Boyd v. Bank of Am. Corp., No. SACV 13–0561, 2014 WL 6473804, at *10 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 18, 2014)).

3. The Skill of Class Counsel and the Complexity of the Case

“[T]he novelty, difficulty and complexity of the issues involved are significant factors in determining a fee award.” Marshall, 2020 WL 5668935, at *4. “The prosecution and management of a complex national class action requires unique legal skills and abilities [and] [t]he single clearest factor reflecting the quality of class counsels’ services to the class are the results obtained.” Waldbuesser, 2017 WL 9614818, at *4 (citations and internal quotations omitted). “ERISA actions are notoriously complex cases.” Hurtado, 2021 WL 2327858, at *4-5.

Class Counsel have substantial experience prosecuting complex national class actions, including cases involving ERISA claims. Schork Decl. ¶¶ 32–36; Ferich Decl. ¶ 35. They have a thorough understanding of the issues presented by these types of cases and through their skill and reputation, were able to obtain an excellent settlement for the Class.

1 This litigation was not easy. Defendants retained Morgan, Lewis & Bockius LLP—2 a highly capable law firm with one of the most well-respected ERISA practice groups in 3 the country—to mount an aggressive defense. Schork Decl. ¶¶ 5–6; Ferich Decl. ¶ 5.
4 Plaintiffs’ Class Action Complaint was filed following an extensive pre-filing 5 investigation and extensive discussions with Plaintiffs’ consulting experts. Schork Decl.
6 ¶ 9; Ferich Decl. ¶ 9. These efforts paved the way for Plaintiffs to successfully oppose a 7 motion to stay and defeat a comprehensive motion to dismiss, but substantial obstacles 8 remained to litigating this action to judgment. Schork Decl. ¶ 6; Ferich Decl. ¶ 6. A battle 9 of the experts was almost a certainty absent the Settlement. In discussions regarding 10 Plaintiffs’ written discovery requests, VCA’s counsel made it clear that they intended to 11 challenge, among other items, what constituted a reasonable RK&A fee for the Plan, the 12 actual RK&A fees charged by the Plan, and the figures that should be used to calculate 13 the RK&A fees charged by the Plan. While Class Counsel believe in the strength of 14 Plaintiffs’ claims, there is no guarantee Plaintiffs would have prevailed at class 15 certification, summary judgment, trial, and on appeal. See Marshall, 2020 WL 5668935, 16 at *4 (recognizing that “ERISA 401(k) fiduciary breach class actions involve complex 17 questions of law and have not been widely litigated to this point [and that] [g]iven the 18 transient nature of standing ERISA law, these cases require highly skilled counsel who 19 could understand the complexity of the law and adapt case law accordingly”) (citations 20 and quotations omitted).

21 The Settlement provides Class Members with timely, substantial, cash relief and 22 avoids the risks of the liability phase, which could have taken years to resolve. Class 23 Counsels’ ability to obtain the Settlement despite the work done by Defendants’ highly 24 skilled counsel is an additional indicator of their skill and the quality of their work. See, 25 e.g., Barbosa v. Cargill Meat Sols. Corp., 297 F.R.D. 431, 449 (E.D. Cal. 2013) (“The 26 quality of opposing counsel is important in evaluating the quality of Class Counsel’s 27 work.”). This factor supports approval of the requested fee award.

28

4. The Financial Risks Assumed by Class Counsel and the Substantial Resources They Devoted to the Prosecution of this Matter

“The risks assumed by class counsel, particularly the risk of non-payment or reimbursement of expenses, is a factor in determining counsel’s proper fee award.” Marshall, 2020 WL 5668935, at *5. Attorneys are entitled to a larger fee award when their compensation is contingent in nature, as here. Carter v. San Pasqual Fiduciary Tr. Co., No. SACV 15-1507-JVS, 2018 WL 6174767, at *9 (C.D. Cal. Feb. 28, 2018); Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1048-50; In re Omnivision Techs., Inc., 559 F. Supp. 2d 1036, 1047 (N.D. Cal. 2008). “It is an established practice in the private legal market to reward attorneys for taking the risk of non-payment by paying them a premium over their normal hourly rates for contingency cases.” Carter, 2018 WL 6174767, at *9.

Class Counsel prosecuted this litigation on a contingency basis, assuming the risk of no payment for a considerable amount of work over an extended period of time. Schork Decl. ¶ 21; Ferich Decl. ¶ 22. They and other attorneys and non-attorneys from their firms devoted over 570 hours to litigating this case and advanced more than $50,000 in costs with no guarantee they would ever receive any compensation for their efforts in this matter. Schork Decl. ¶¶ 19, 29; Ferich Decl. ¶ 30. These financial risks were further “compounded” by the fact that “recovery was uncertain” in this ERISA excessive fees case. See generally Marshall, 2020 WL 5668935, at *5 (collecting cases where ERISA excessive fee cases were dismissed and those dismissals were upheld on appeal). These factors weigh “substantially in favor” of the requested 1/3 fee award. See id. (quoting Campbell v. Best Buy Stores, L.P., No. 12-7794, 2016 WL 6662719, at *8 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 5, 2016)).

5. Class Members’ Reactions to the Settlement

“The presence or absence of objections from the class is also a factor in determining the proper fee award.” Marshall, 2020 WL 5668935, at *6 (citation omitted). On March 24, 2023, the Settlement Administrator: (1) mailed the Settlement Postcard Notice to 23,930 Class Members that had a mailing address available in the Class Data; and (2) emailed the Settlement Postcard Notice to 17,862 Class Members who had an

1 email address available in the Class Data. ECF 87-2, Decl. of Richard W. Simmons in 2 Support of Plaintiffs’ Unopposed Motion for Final Approval of Class Action Settlement.
3 The same day, the Settlement and class notices were posted on a settlement website 4 maintained by the Settlement Administrator. Id. ¶ 19. The Court-approved notices 5 apprised Class Members that Class Counsel would seek an award of attorneys’ fees of up 6 to 1/3 of the Settlement Fund and reimbursement of out-of-pocket costs and expenses not 7 to exceed $50,000. Id. at 43, 53–54 (notices). The notices also informed Class Members 8 of their right to object to Class Counsels’ fee request on or before May 26, 2023. Id. As 9 of the date of this filing, no Class Members had submitted an objection to Class Counsels’ 10 fee request.

11 6. Fee Awards in Similar Cases

12 Courts oftentimes look to fee awards in similar cases in assessing the 13 reasonableness of a fee request. Marshall, 2020 WL 5668935, at *8 (citing Viscaino, 290 14 F.3d at 1049-50). Fee awards in most common fund cases exceed the 25% benchmark.
15 Id. (citing Knight v. Red Door Salons, Inc., No. 8-01520 SC, 2009 248367, at *6 (N.D.
16 Cal. Feb. 2, 2009)); Romero v. Producers Dairy Foods, Inc., No. 1:05-cv-0484-DLB, 17 2007 WL 3492841, at *4 (E.D. Cal. Nov. 14, 2007) (“Empirical studies show that, 18 regardless of whether the percentage method or the lodestar method is used, fee awards 19 in class actions average around one-third of the recovery”) (quoting 4 Newberg & Conte, 20 Newberg on Class Actions § 14.6 (4th ed. 2007)).

21 Class Counsels’ request for a fee award of 1/3 of the common fund is “on par with” 22 fee awards granted in connection with “settlements in other complex ERISA class 23 actions.” Foster v. Adams & Assocs., Inc., No. 18-CV-02723, 2022 WL 425559, at *10 24 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 11, 2022) (approving 1/3 of the fund fee request); Marshall, 2020 WL 25 5668935, at *8 (same); Waldbuesser, 2017 WL 9614818, (same). The request is also 26 consistent with the fact that courts commonly award 33.3% of the fund—as opposed to 27 the 25% benchmark—in cases involving smaller funds of less than 10 million dollars.
28 Hardmon v. Ascena Retail Grp., Inc., No. 19-CV-2207, 2022 WL 17572098, at *7 (C.D.

1 Cal. Nov. 29, 2022) (collecting authorities). This factor further supports approval of the 2 requested fee award.

3 7. A Lodestar Cross-Check Confirms the Reasonableness of the 4 Requested Award

5 Application of a lodestar cross-check confirms the reasonableness of the requested 6 fees. When engaging in a lodestar cross-check, courts “start by determining how many 7 hours were reasonably expended on the litigation, and then multiply those hours by the 8 prevailing local rate for an attorney of the skill required to perform the 9 litigation.” Marshall, 2020 WL 5668935, at *6 (quoting Moreno v. City of Sacramento, 10 534 F.3d 1106, 1111 (9th Cir. 2008)). Because “attorneys in common fund cases must be 11 compensated for any delay in payment,” courts look to “current rates for all work done 12 in the litigation” when applying a cross-check. Id. (citations and quotations omitted).
13 Class Counsel need only submit documentation appropriate to meet the burden 14 establishing an entitlement to an award, not to satisfy “green-eyeshade accountants.” Id.
15 (quoting Fox v. Vice, 131 S. Ct. 2205, 2216 (2011)).

16 The accompanying declarations of Class Counsel set forth the hours of work and 17 billing rates used to calculate the lodestars here. As described in those declarations, Class 18 Counsel and their staff have devoted more than 570 hours to this litigation and have a 19 total lodestar to date of $444,946. Schork Decl. ¶¶ 19, 25; Ferich Decl. ¶¶ 21, 26, 30. All 20 of this time was reasonable and necessary for the prosecution of this action. Class Counsel 21 took meaningful steps to ensure the efficiency of their work. Schork Decl. ¶ 23; Ferich 22 Decl. ¶¶ 23–25. And, as explained further below, these amounts do not include the 23 additional time that Class Counsel will have to spend through the Final Approval Hearing 24 and beyond. See Caudle v. Bristow Optical Co., 224 F.3d 1014, 1028 (9th Cir. 2000) 25 (counsel entitled to recover for all hours reasonably expended).

26 Because complex ERISA cases, such as this matter, “involve a national standard” 27 and attorneys practicing ERISA law in the Ninth Circuit tend to practice in courts 28

1 throughout the nation, “the nationwide market rate” is the relevant hourly rate for Class 2 Counsels’ work in this matter. Marshall, 2020 WL 5668935, at *6 (collecting authority).

3 Class Counsel are highly regarded members of the bar with extensive experience 4 prosecuting complex class actions, including ERISA cases. Schork Decl. ¶¶ 32–36; 5 Ferich Decl. ¶¶ 32–40. Class Counsel submitted the following hourly rates: attorneys with 6 more than 30 years of experience ($1040 to $1200 per hour), attorneys with between 20 7 and 29 years of experience ($950 per hour); attorneys with between 10 and 19 years of 8 experience ($850 to $860 per hour); attorneys with between 7 and 9 years of experience 9 ($750 per hour); attorneys with between 4 and 6 years experience ($560); attorneys with 10 up to 3 years of experience ($450); and paralegals ($170 to $250). Schork Decl. ¶ 25; 11 Ferich Decl. ¶ 26. Their hourly rates are consistent with the “nationwide market rate” and 12 those approved in analogous complex ERISA cases. See, e.g., Marshall, 2020 WL 13 5668935, at *6 (endorsing the following hourly rates for ERISA attorneys: 25+ years of 14 experience ($1060), 15-24 years of experience ($900), 5-14 years of experience ($650), 15 2-4 years of experience ($490)).

16 Multiplying the hours Class Counsel and others from their firms spent advancing 17 the litigation by their hourly rates results in a lodestar multiplier of 1.12. This number 18 will continue to be reduced as Class Counsel spend additional time preparing for the final 19 approval hearing, coordinating with the settlement administrator, and overseeing the 20 settlement distribution process.

21 “In determining a reasonable attorney fee in class action common fund cases, the 22 lodestar figure is routinely enhanced by a multiplier to compensate class counsel for the 23 risk of non-payment by litigating the case on a contingency basis.” Marshall, 2020 WL 24 5668935, at *8 (citing In re Washington Pub. Power Supply Sys. Secs. Litig., 19 F.3d 25 1291, 1299–1300 (9th Cir. 1994) (“It is an established practice in the private legal market 26 to reward attorneys for taking the risk of non-payment by paying them a premium over 27 their normal hourly rates for winning contingency cases”); Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051 28 (“courts have routinely enhanced the lodestar to reflect the risk of non-payment in

1 common fund cases”). Class Counsels’ miniscule 1.12 multiplier is readily justified
 2 because they devoted substantial time and effort to advancing a complex ERISA class 3 action cases and assumed a significant risk of non-payment by litigating the matter on a 4 contingency fee basis. This factor further supports the reasonableness of the requested 5 fee award.

6 B. Class Counsel Are Entitled to Reimbursement of Litigation Costs

7 Class Counsel are entitled to recover “out-of-pocket expenses that would normally 8 be charged to a fee-paying client.” Harris v. Marhoefer, 24 F.3d 16, 19 (9th Cir. 1994)
 9 (internal citation and quotation marks omitted). It is appropriate to reimburse Class 10 Counsel for such expenses from the common fund. See, e.g., Leonard, et al. v. Baumer
 11 (In re United Energy Corp. Solar Power Modules Tax Shelter Inv. Sec. Litig.), No. 87-12 CV-3962, 1989 WL 73211, at *6 (C.D. Cal. Mar. 9, 1989). In common-fund cases, the 13 Ninth Circuit has stated that the reasonable expenses of acquiring the fund can be 14 reimbursed to counsel who has incurred the expense. See Vincent v. Hughes Air W., Inc., 15 557 F.2d 759, 769 (9th Cir. 1977). Such expense awards comport with the notion that the 16 district court may “spread the costs of the litigation among the recipients of the common 17 benefit.” Wininger v. SI Mgmt. L.P., 301 F.3d 1115, 1121 (9th Cir. 2002).

18 To date, Class Counsels’ firms have collectively incurred more than $50,000 in 19 unreimbursed litigation costs. Schork Decl. ¶ 30; Ferich Decl. ¶ 30. The costs for which 20 Class Counsel seek reimbursement were reasonably necessary for the continued 21 prosecution and resolution of this litigation and were incurred by Plaintiffs’ Counsel for 22 the benefit of Class Members with no guarantee that they would be reimbursed. See 23 Staton, 327 F.3d at 974 (class counsel are entitled to reimbursement of expenses they 24 reasonably incurred). The requested $50,000 in litigation costs are reasonable in amount, 25 and the Court should approve their reimbursement.

26 C. The Requested Service Payments Are Reasonable and Appropriate

27 The requested Service Payments of $3,000 to each of the four Class 28 Representatives ($12,000 total) are reasonable and appropriate to compensate these

1 individuals for stepping forward to represent the Class, devoting substantial time and 2 effort to overseeing this matter, and the excellent recovery they achieved on behalf of 3 the Class. “It is well-established in this circuit that named plaintiffs in a class action are 4 eligible for reasonable incentive payments, also known as service awards.” Viceral v.
5 Mistras Grp., Inc., No. 15-cv-02198-EMC, 2017 WL 661352, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 17, 6 2017) (citation omitted). When determining whether to approve a requested service 7 award, courts may consider:

- 8 1) the risk to the class representative in commencing suit, both financial and 9 otherwise; 2) the notoriety and personal difficulties encountered by the class 10 representative; 3) the amount of time and effort spent by the class 11 representative; 4) the duration of the litigation and; 5) the personal benefit (or lack thereof) enjoyed by the class representative as a result of the litigation.

12 Marshall, 2020 WL 5668935, at *10.

13 Here, the Settlement and Detailed Notice specifically disclosed Plaintiffs’ intent 14 to seek Service Payments of $3,000 for each of the four Class Representatives. While 15 Class Members have until May 26, 2023, to file any objections, as of this filing, no Class 16 Member had filed an objection to the requested Service Payments. The requested Service 17 Payments of $3,000 are in accord with—and indeed less than—“service awards 18 considered reasonable in the Central District and other districts of California.” Id.
19 (approving service awards of $5,000 per plaintiff and collecting authorities). In pursuing 20 this matter on behalf of the Class, Plaintiffs took on the financial risk that they could be 21 held liable for costs awarded in Defendants’ favor and spent substantial time and effort 22 communicating with Class Counsel regarding the allegations at issue, locating and 23 providing documentation to Class Counsel, keeping apprised of the advancement of the 24 litigation, and reviewing and approving the Settlement. The requested Service Payments 25 are justified and appropriate.

1 V. CONCLUSION

2 For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court enter an 3 Order awarding attorneys' fees of $500,000, costs in the amount of $50,000, and Service 4 Payments in the amount of $3,000 to each of the four Class Representatives.
